

We are pleased and proud to present the spring 2007 Lyons Press list.

There is something for everyone in our new catalog, which represents our reinvigorated core categories: History and Military, Current Affairs, Biography, Fishing and Hunting, Equestrian, Sports, Nature, Reference, Cooking, and Pets.

In History and Current Affairs, we have some terrific books by authors new to Lyons, including Al Venter's Allah's Bomb, best-selling author Alan Axelrod's Miracle at Belleau Wood, Lena Einhorn's The Jesus Mystery, and Michael Veron's Shell Game. In Biography, we have John Hemingway's fascinating Strange Tribe.

We also have new or revised titles by many of our long-time authors and branding partners, including Orvis, L.L. Bean, Field & Stream, Lefty Kreh, Dave Whitlock, and Tom Rosenbauer. With Orvis, in addition to some top-notch fishing books, we are launching books in two new areas, The Orvis Book of Cabins and The Orvis Book of Dogs.

In Fishing, we are pleased to present the great Ernest Schwiebert's final books, the two-volume, full-color set, Nymphs. We also have a new series of regional guides, including Fishing Virginia and Fishing Maine. In the Equestrian area, the new and revised edition of Bill Dorrance and Leslie Desmond's classic, True Horsemanship Through Feel, as well as Steven Price and Jessie Shiers's The Lyons Press Horseman's Dictionary, round out our offerings.

In Sports, we're happy to include The Historical Football Abstract by Sean Lahman—which may well change the way people think about football—along with Josh Pahigian's new book, The Ultimate Minor League Baseball Road Trip.

In Pets, we have Your Adopted Dog by Shelley Frost and Katerina Lorenzatos Makris; Joyce Darrell's Extraordinary Dogs, a heart-warming book about very special dogs; and veterinarian Michael W. Fox's new books, Dog Body, Dog Mind and Cat Body, Cat Mind.

Following up on a strong fall '06 list, the spring '07 Lyons list is a terrific one with the addition of these wonderful new books in our core categories. There is indeed something for everyone. Enjoy!

ALLAH'S BOMB

The Islamic Quest for Nuclear Weapons

AL VENTER

Various intelligence agencies, including but not limited to those in the United States, have identified thirty-three international states or entities that have either started the process of building nuclear devices or have expressed interest in building them. Many, including Pakistan, Saudi Arabia, Egypt, various former Soviet republics, and Iran have ties to Islamic militant groups. Other countries, including North Korea, have expressed strong enmity for the West and could be considered a likely supplier of technology and material to many of these states.

Impeccably researched by longtime international war correspondent Al Venter, a frequent contributor to the Jane's International Group, Allah's Bomb presents an accessible estimate of the progress being made by these various countries and the repercussions of the situation. What, for example, is the role of Russia in supplying former Soviet nuclear armaments and technology? If Iran detonates a test bomb, as North Korea did recently, how would Israel react? How would the United States respond? Venter covers the situation fully, from how material is smuggled to how various nations circumvent international sanctions. This is a timely and important book.

Al Venter, through his connections with Jane's, has been getting support from the various intelligence agencies he has routinely relied on for his Jane's reportage. He classifies this as "good solid information that is disturbing as hell."

Al Venter has been an international correspondent for nearly thirty years, most frequently for the Jane's International Group. A native of South Africa, he currently lives in Canada.

- Author has covered international events for 30 years
- Reportage based on intelligence sources throughout the world

THE JESUS MYSTERY

ASTONISHING CLUES TO THE TRUE IDENTITIES OF JESUS AND PAUL

LENA EINHORN

THE JESUS MYSTERY

Astonishing Clues to the True Identities of Jesus and Paul

LENA EINHORN

In the international bestseller The Jesus Mystery, award-winning filmmaker Lena Einhorn dares to revisit accepted first-century chronologies, changing—perhaps irrevocably—the study of New Testament history and the way we see the relationship between Jesus and the apostle Paul.

To support her astonishing and original hypothesis, Einhorn uses all of her scientific skills to bring together New Testament writings, as well as texts from contemporary Jewish and Roman historians, legends that survived within and outside Christianity during the first centuries after Jesus's death, and, not least, psychology.

With meticulous care, she shows that incidents and people mentioned in the New Testament very closely resemble accounts recorded in the works of Flavius Josephus (Jewish Antiquities and The Jewish War)—but fifteen to twenty years later. The answer she offers is one never before seen in print.

Lena Einhorn's films have dealt with ancient historical mysteries—the genesis of the Finnish language, the origin of the Indo-Europeans, and the story of the Exodus out of Egypt and the origins of the Israelites. She is best known in North America for her film-festival success Nina's Journey, about her mother's life in the Warsaw ghetto and time spent in hiding during World War II. The film won top prizes in Sweden and Israel. She lives in Sweden.

- Newsworthy hypothesis that will provoke discussion and controversy
- Will appeal to Da Vinci Code readers
- Historical Jesus is a hugely popular topic in history and religion categories
- Reads like a thriller

SHELL GAME

One Family's Long Battle Against Big Oil

J. MICHAEL VERON

Shell Oil was accustomed to getting its way in Louisiana. With deep pockets, teams of attorneys, and influential lobbyists in the state legislature, the second-largest oil company in the world could demand—and get—essentially anything it wanted. Until it met J. Michael Veron and his family.

Shell Game is the dramatic, fast-paced true account of a nine-year battle pitting a Louisiana family of modest means against Shell in an effort to clean up decades of pollution on the family's property. Bullied, intimidated, and dubbed "the Beverly Hillbillies" by Shell's highly paid attorneys, author J. Michael Veron's relatives refused to buckle—and continued their fight against tremendous odds.

A small-town lawyer, Veron led the fight against Shell. His first-person account of the struggle is gripping, tense, and ultimately uplifting. It is a story of greed and great passion and of a family's refusal to back down in the face of unrelenting pressure. Shell Game is the story of how one family not only righted a wrong, but also changed the way oil companies operate.

J. Michael Veron is a trial attorney, author, and law professor at Louisiana State University. Veron's earlier works of fiction earned him the title of "master of fiction" from USA Today. Shell Game is his first work of nonfiction.

- Firsthand account of a dramatic nine-year struggle
- Intriguing and colorful characters
- David-versus-Goliath drama, with one small rural family taking on Shell Oil
- Great environmental drama that exposes the greed of a large corporation

RUNNING WITH THE DEVIL

The True Story of the ATF's Infiltration of the Hells Angels
KERRIE DROBAN

The infamous Sonny Barger once declared that the Hells Angels would never be infiltrated. Running with the Devil chronicles the story of the ATF sting and the two undercover agents who risked their lives to prove him wrong. For two years, they posed as members of a Mexican renegade motorcycle club, earning the trust and respect of the vicious Arizona Hells Angels. Their work led to the shocking 2003 bust in which ATF agents arrested fifty people and seized 650 guns, 30,000 rounds of ammunition, and more than 100 explosive items—including grenades and napalm! Writing in cooperation with ATF agents who remain undercover today, the author follows the perilous mission up through the ensuing court case and jail sentences. Along the way, Droban provides a startling—and unprecedented—exposé on the treacherous inner workings of the Hells Angels brotherhood.

Kerrie Droban is a criminal defense attorney, a graduate of the Johns Hopkins University Writing Seminars, and an award-winning author of suspense thrillers. She lives in Phoenix, Arizona.

- Reveals declassified information on the infiltration and takedown of this notorious gang

ANTI GRAVITY

Allegedly Humorous Writing from Scientific American
STEVE MIRSKY

Steve Mirsky, humorist-turned-podcaster, has entertained and provoked readers of Scientific American magazine in his “Anti Gravity” column for the past ten years. With his sharp wit, wide-ranging interests, and droll application of a scientific viewpoint to pop culture, he has covered topics ranging from CSI’s influence on college majors to the cheap-Formica-billed woodpecker, from the absurdities of creation “science” to the inanities of politicians trying to address scientific topics on Sunday-morning talk shows. Podcasting is expanding Mirsky’s audience, and this book is timed to serve the rising interest in this fresh writing talent.

Steve Mirsky’s monthly column, “Anti Gravity,” appears in Scientific American, and he also produces and narrates Scientific American’s daily and weekly podcasts. His freelance articles have appeared in magazines such as Astronomy, Audubon, Earth, Men’s Fitness, National Wildlife, Self, and Wildlife Conservation.

- Smart, funny, accessible writing
- Humorous take on scientific topics of current interest
- Downloads of writer’s weekly podcasts are growing rapidly (50,000 per week after first 20 weeks!)
- Scientific American has a paid circulation of more than 1 million

STRANGE TRIBE

John Hemingway

a family memoir

STRANGE TRIBE

A Family Memoir

JOHN HEMINGWAY

Strange Tribe is a fascinating memoir revealing the peculiar family dynamics between Ernest Hemingway and his youngest son, Gregory. Gregory, the author's father, tried to live up to Ernest's macho reputation throughout his life. But as a cross-dresser and (eventually) a transsexual, Gregory was obsessed with androgyny and his "female half," and he struggled with personal demons up until his death in the Women's Correctional Facility of the Miami-Dade County Jail in 2001. In this wonderfully crafted narrative, John reveals how Ernest and Gregory (who both suffered from bipolar illness and were both fascinated by androgyny) were "two sides of the same coin." Featuring previously unpublished correspondence between Ernest and Gregory, Strange Tribe is the story of these men and their surprising similarities.

This is also John's story—about what it was like growing up in Miami and Montana with his father and his schizophrenic mother, and of how it took him years to deal with the pain their illnesses caused him. He also shows how the persona of Ernest Hemingway, the most important literary icon of the past 100 years, continues to loom darkly over the often-troubled lives of his descendants.

John Hemingway is a writer and translator who lives with his wife, Ornella, and their two children, Michael and Jacqueline, just outside of Milan in Italy.

- Includes never-before-published Ernest Hemingway letters
- Reveals the fascinating dynamics between Ernest Hemingway and his youngest son, Gregory
- A compelling book for anyone interested in gender, androgyny, and sexuality
- The Hemingway name resonates strongly within American culture
- Illuminates the life and work of the most important literary icon of the past 100 years

A LIFE WORTH LIVING

The Adventures of a Passionate Sportsman

JACK HEMINGWAY; EDITED AND WITH AN INTRODUCTION BY GEOFFREY NORMAN

A memoir of a sportsman's life from the son of one of the twentieth century's greatest writers.

Jack Hemingway, son of literary legend Ernest Hemingway and one of America's best-known outdoorsmen, has written an engrossing, warm, and candid memoir of his life as an inveterate sportsman. Balancing self-effacing humor with a delicacy of prose both graceful and knowing, along with an introduction by Geoffrey Norman and a foreword contributed by Angela Hemingway, A Life Worth Living is a touching, passionate memoir of a lifetime spent practicing the sports he loved so much.

Jack Hemingway, the eldest son of Ernest Hemingway, was an avid fly fisherman and sportsman for more than sixty years. This posthumous publication is his second book.

Geoffrey Norman is the author of Two for the Summit: My Daughter, the Mountains, and Me. He has written for Outside, Esquire, Men's Journal, National Geographic, and Sports Illustrated. He lives in Dorset, Vermont.

THE VOICE

Mel Allen's Untold Story
CURT SMITH

Mel Allen and his signature phrase “How About That” provided a soundtrack to the lives of sports fans for decades, chronicling the exploits of the New York Yankees during their glory years from 1939 to 1964, as well as major sporting events from boxing to college football. His firing by the Yankees after twenty five years shocked the sports world and was shrouded in mystery. In The Voice, Curt Smith gives an in-depth account of the rise, fall, and comeback of one of the most compelling figures in broadcasting history.

Curt Smith is the author of eleven books, including Voices of the Game and What Baseball Means to Me. He lives in Rochester, New York.

- The never-before-told story behind Allen's termination
- Author is recognized as the leading historian on baseball broadcasting history
- Includes blw photographs

“Smith deftly dispels many of the ugly myths that have long haunted the legacy of this titan of broadcasting. I was happily returned to my youth, Ballantine Blasts, and ‘How About That!’”

Fay Vincent

Major League Baseball Commissioner, 1989–1992, and author of The Last Commissioner

“Allen’s glory, downfall, and comeback make a remarkable story, and Smith tells it with a great balance of description and scholarship.”

Ernie Harwell

Baseball Hall of Fame announcer and Sports Illustrated’s Voice of the “All-Time Dream Team”

“No other sportscaster ever had such a tremendous hold on the baseball public, yet worried more about losing his grip. A chilling reminder that being the best may not mean the happiest. A must-read.”

Bob Wolff

Baseball Hall of Fame announcer

CAN'T REMEMBER SH*T

SHELLEY KLEIN

Have you ever reached the top of the stairs, only to realize that you can't remember why you came upstairs in the first place? Have you recently found something that you put down and could not find yesterday, but not the thing that you put down somewhere just now that you're actually trying to find? Do you sometimes discover that your car has mysteriously parked itself on the other side of the road?

Like many of us—some say it's everyone over the age of thirty—you are now entering the era when you can't remember sh*t. Sometimes these interludes are private, but all too often they are very public. Fear not—help is near! Can't Remember Sh*t is a riotously funny collection of hints, tips, anecdotes, and advice, all drawn from the experiences of everyone from actors to athletes, politicians to poets, composers to comedians. This is an absolutely essential book for anyone interested in . . . uh . . . whatever.

Shelley Klein's books include The Wicked Wit of Charles Dickens; Shufflebeam, Brokway, and Sturt: The Origins of Surnames; and several others. She lives in England.

WHAT WERE THEY THINKING?, NEW AND REVISED

Really Bad Ideas Throughout History
BRUCE FELTON

Bad ideas are everywhere—they're the tile grout of history, the crabgrass of civilization, poking up through every crack in our thinking. According to government statistics, they outnumber good ideas 600 to 1.

Fully revised and expanded, What Were They Thinking?, New and Revised is a compendium of some 400 harebrained schemes, fool notions, and misguided obsessions both grandiose and mundane. Readers will learn about the mutant cheese that attacked the White House . . . the Atlanta Braves pitcher who ironed his shirt—while he was wearing it . . . the man who put lobsters in his underwear . . . and the Elvis Vegiform, a plastic mold that makes any vegetable resemble the King. Within these pages, the aim has not been to probe the motives behind bad ideas, but simply to recount and, above all, revel in them.

The stories in What Were They Thinking? range from the horrific to the hilarious; many are both. But they are all true.

Bruce Felton, an award-winning writer and editor, has written for numerous magazines and newspapers and has authored four books. He lives in New York City.

MIRACLE AT BELLEAU WOOD

The Birth of the Modern U.S. Marine Corps

ALAN AXELROD

By the time the Battle of Belleau Wood was over, Americans hailed it as “the Gettysburg of the Great War.” Although it did not win World War I, it did rescue America and its allies from almost certain defeat, much as the Civil War’s Gettysburg denied the Confederates victory.

In June 1918, all that stood between the German army and Allied defeat were 200 United States Marines. But Belleau Wood was more than the salvation of the four-year Allied crusade to “make the world safe for democracy.” The battle, stunning in its concentration and intensity, was the fiery furnace from which the modern United States Marine Corps emerged as America’s fiercest and most effective warriors, the world’s preeminent fighting elite.

Alan Axelrod is the best-selling author of Patton on Leadership, Encyclopedia of Wars, and Encyclopedia of the U.S. Marine Corps. He lives in Atlanta, Georgia.

- By the best-selling author of Patton on Leadership
- A fresh account of one of the most exciting World War I battles
- The dramatic story of the battle that transformed the Marines from shipboard soldiers and embassy guards to America’s fiercest warriors

101 PEOPLE YOU WON'T MEET IN HEAVEN

The Twisted Achievements of the Most Brutal and Sadistic Individuals the World Has Ever Known

MICHAEL POWELL

101 People You Won't Meet in Heaven is a gruesome hall of fame. Evildoers jostle for position, including the likes of Basil the Bulgar-slayer, Vlad the Impaler, Lizzie Borden, Heinrich Himmler, Pol Pot, Ted Bundy, Jeffrey Dahmer, Nicolae Ceausescu, and Slobodan Milosevic. Many common threads appear, including brutal childhoods, an unswerving will to power, and often the support, tacit or otherwise, of a legion of willing accomplices. There are many contrasts, too. Some are charismatic leaders with forceful personalities, while others acted alone and in secret—solitary narcissists, full of self-loathing and repressed desire.

For those who are fascinated by what turns men into monsters, 101 People You Won't Meet in Heaven is an engrossing and honest examination of humankind's baser instincts.

Michael Powell is a freelance writer who has penned more than fifty titles, from historical guides to historical compilations. He lives in Somerset, England.

- Adrenaline-rush details of military and criminal history, anarchy, terror, and despotism
- Taps into the fascination with the most notorious people in recorded history

OCEAN TITANS

Journeys in Search of the Soul of a Ship
DANIEL SEKULICH

In Ocean Titans, author Daniel Sekulich takes us on a fascinating journey as he delves into the world of merchant shipping. We travel to massive shipyards in Korea, across the North Atlantic in a ferocious gale, and into the boardroom of a wealthy ship owner in Monaco. Along the way, we learn how a captain masters his craft, why a deckhand spends nine months at sea, and how a ship is broken up on the shores of India. Through it all, Ocean Titans seeks to understand the ageless appeal of ships and the sea, and attempts to answer the question, “Does a ship have a soul?”

Daniel Sekulich has spent the last fifteen years working as a writer and documentary filmmaker, and the bulk of his work deals with global and international issues—social, political, war-related—but always from a universal perspective. He lives in Canada.

- Great armchair read combines current events, adventure, travel, luxury, and mysticism

THE FOOTSTEPS OF THE PIONEERS

One Man's Quest to Find the Old West
TWIN BRADEN

In the early 1840s a group of some 300 pioneers set off from St. Joseph, Missouri, headed for Oregon's Willamette Valley. The group included William Shaw, who was well liked and conscientious. It also included Henry Sager, a dreamer and rogue whose carelessness led to tragedy. In the summer of 2006, author Twain Braden retraced the route of these pioneers, driving in ruts possibly created by their wagons. Juxtaposing the story of the pioneer's arduous journey west with his own trip, Braden presents a moving and illuminating account of how America became what it is today.

Twain Braden has worked as a writer and editor for the past decade. He lives in Charleston, South Carolina.

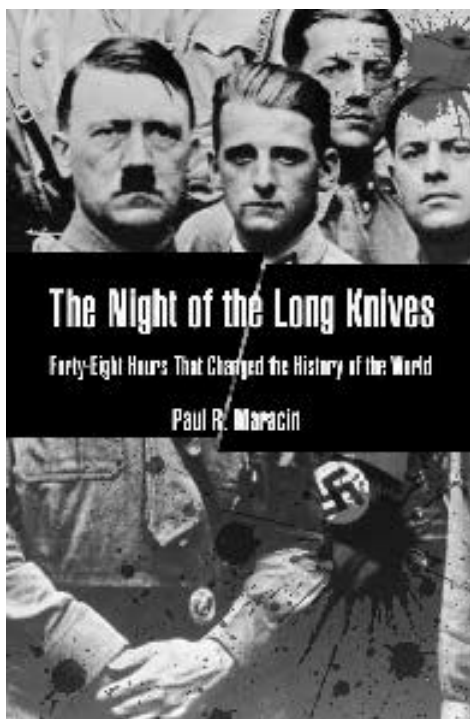

- An in-depth study of a movement that shaped America
- Terrific read for fans of the Old West

THE NIGHT OF THE LONG KNIVES

Forty-Eight Hours That Changed the History of the World
PAUL R. MARACIN

How did Adolf Hitler, a mediocre army corporal and failed landscape painter, become the architect of the most calamitous events of the twentieth century? Few know that Hitler's fateful transition from ambitious demagogue to Europe's most vicious tyrant occurred on an ordinary Saturday—June 30, 1934—in an event known as “The Night of the Long Knives.” This is the story of the events leading up to that awful event, and its most horrifying repercussions.

Paul R. Maracin is a former criminal investigator with the San Diego County District Attorney's Office. He lives in San Diego, California.

WE DIE ALONE

A WWII Epic of Escape and Endurance

DAVID HOWARTH; INTRODUCTION BY STEPHEN E. AMBROSE

We Die Alone recounts one of the most exciting escape stories to emerge from the challenges and miseries of World War II. In March 1943, a team of expatriate Norwegian commandos sailed from northern England for Nazi-occupied arctic Norway to organize and supply the Norwegian resistance. But they were betrayed and the Nazis ambushed them. Only one man survived—Jan Baalsrud. This is the incredible and gripping story of his escape.

Frostbitten and snowblind, pursued by the Nazis, he dragged himself on until he reached a small arctic village. He was near death, delirious, and a virtual cripple. But the villagers, at mortal risk to themselves, were determined to save him, and—through impossible feats—they did.

We Die Alone is an astonishing true story of heroism and endurance. Like Slavomir Rawicz's The Long Walk, it is also an unforgettable portrait of the determination of the human spirit.

David Howarth ran a spy ring during World War II. He was also the author of two dozen major books on history.

- An enduring classic in the same vein as Slavomir Rawicz's The Long Walk, which has sold more than 100,000 copies
- Foreword by the late Stephen E. Ambrose, who counted We Die Alone among the few books he could not put down until he had finished them (the others were Cold Mountain, With the Old Breed, and The Long Walk)

GHOST SHIPS

Tales of Abandoned, Doomed, and Haunted Vessels

ANGUS KONSTAM

There are few images more chilling than an abandoned ship drifting alone at sea. Ghost Ships is an anthology of the best true-life—and sometimes, still questionable—accounts of vessels that, for whatever reason, never made port. These stories demonstrate that the real mysteries of seafaring life are even stranger and more unnerving than any fictional account.

Angus Konstam has worked as chief curator in museums on both sides of the Atlantic. He lives in Edinburgh, Scotland.

SHOOTING FOR THE MOON

The Strange History of Human Spaceflight
BOB BERMAN

Shooting for the Moon provides an accessible and detailed look into one of the most intriguing programs ever: the American lunar program. From the pioneer efforts of test pilots in the early “space race,” to the worldwide exhilaration behind man’s first walk on the moon, to the devastation behind the disastrous Challenger accident and the new visions the government now has for the program, author Bob Berman recounts for the lay reader all the advances and setbacks that have taken place during the immense growth of the space program.

Bob Berman is author of Strange Universe and Secrets of the Night Sky. He has a weekly radio show and a monthly hour-long call-in show on NPR Northeast. He also writes a column for The Old Farmer’s Almanac and is a monthly columnist for Discover and Astronomy magazines. He lives in upstate New York.

- A look into the history of the intriguing space exploration program, written by an authority in the field
- Taps into sense of nostalgia and wonderment everyone has about the American space program
- Books on the space program always do well; a great read for all ages
- Includes 8-page blw insert

THE GREATEST U.S. MARINE CORPS STORIES EVER TOLD

Unforgettable Stories of Courage, Honor, and Sacrifice
EDITED BY IAIN C. MARTIN

On Friday, November 10, 1775, the Continental Congress approved a resolution for the organization of the Corps, creating what would become the hallowed few, the proud—the Marines. Since then, the men and women of the United States Marine Corps have created the finest traditions of service and honor, and supplied a pantheon of heroes who have upheld them. In The Greatest U.S. Marine Corps Stories Ever Told, editor Iain Martin has accumulated the Marines' most amazing true tales of service and sacrifice, from the Halls of Montezuma, to the shores of Tripoli, to the conflicts where they serve today.

Iain C. Martin is a freelance writer and historian with an MA in history from Southern Connecticut State University. He lives with his family in Connecticut.

- Part of the ongoing Greatest series by the Lyons Press (with over 150,000 books in print!)
- Unique read for anyone considering joining the United States Marine Corps, retirees, military history buffs, and many more

THE HISTORICAL FOOTBALL ABSTRACT

Sean Lahman

THE HISTORICAL FOOTBALL ABSTRACT

SEAN LAHMAN

In The Historical Football Abstract, author and sports statistical genius Sean Lahman presents a revolutionary reevaluation of football statistics and, à la Bill James, comes up with stats such as “adjusted yards” and “Q-Ratings” to more accurately assess player performance. Using these methods, and his many years of experience in sports statistical publishing, the author presents his all-time rankings of players at each position. He also discusses how the game has changed from decade to decade, and how these changes must be considered when comparing modern players like Tom Brady, Dan Marino, and Emmitt Smith with players of past eras, such as Sammy Baugh, Jim Brown, and Johnny Unitas.

Sean Lahman is a pioneer in the field of sports statistics, having created historical databases for use in both print and digital projects. He is the author of the Pro Football Prospectus and the Pro Football Forecast, and is a contributor to the ESPN Pro Football Encyclopedia. He is currently a football columnist for The New York Sun and author of several books. Before that, he was an editor for Total Sports, where he helped establish the gold standard for sports reference books. He lives in Rochester, New York.

- Lahman is destined to become the Bill James of football
- Football is the most popular team sport in America
- A must-have book for any football enthusiast
- Author receives 55,000 unique visitors to his website, www.seanlahman.com, every month

PEDRO, CARLOS (AND CARLOS) AND OMAR

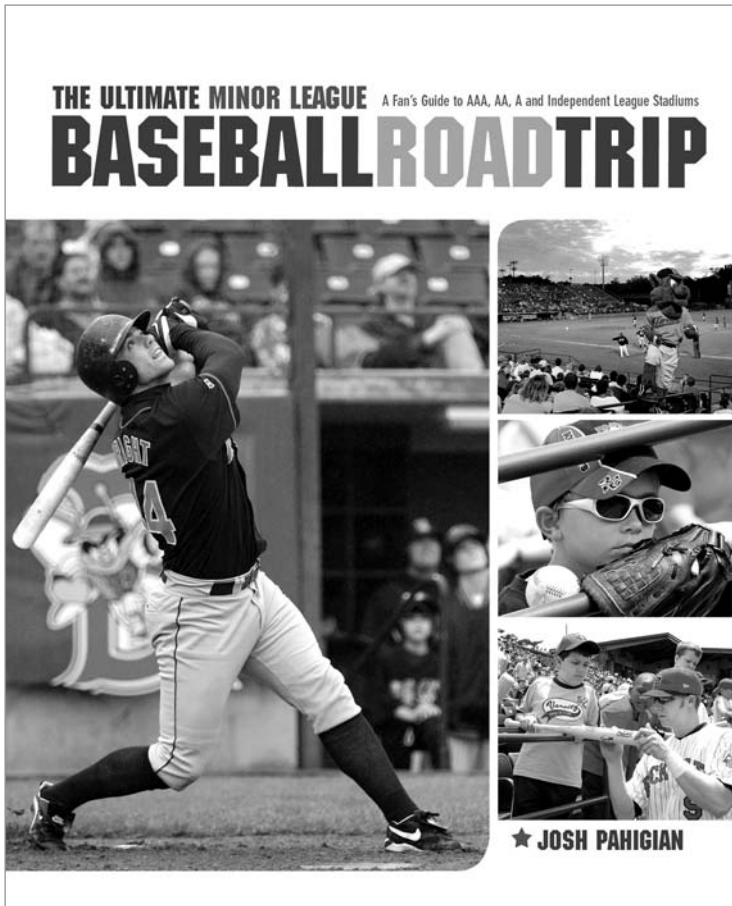

The Rebirth of the New York Mets
ADAM RUBIN

Pedro, Carlos (and Carlos) and Omar takes an inside look at the Mets’ resurgence in the National League thanks to the influx of Latino stars. With a priceless insider’s view, New York Daily News Mets beat writer Adam Rubin examines the behind-the-scenes acquisition of the team’s two poster boys for baseball’s Latino explosion, as well as the team’s dynamic new GM, Omar Minaya, and the team’s rebirth as a major National League power behind All-Star third baseman David Wright and the team’s new cleanup hitter, Carlos Delgado.

Adam Rubin is the New York Mets beat writer for the New York Daily News. He lives in Long Beach, New York.

- Expanded to include the 2006 season and the team’s thrilling postseason
- Strong interest among New York baseball fans and among the many transplanted Mets fans throughout the country

THE ULTIMATE MINOR LEAGUE BASEBALL ROAD TRIP

A Fan's Guide to AAA, AA, A, and Independent League Stadiums

JOSH PAHIGIAN

This is an enthusiastic, irreverent, and exhaustive guidebook to all 119 stadiums of Minor League Baseball (plus "indie" league parks!) that any fan would need for the ultimate minor league road-trip. Part travel manual, part ballpark atlas, part baseball history guide, and part restaurant and city guide, The Ultimate Minor League Baseball Road Trip is the only book a minor league fan will need before hitting the road for games both near and far. Includes tips on seating (like where to sit to avoid having the sun in your eyes!), tailgating, tickets, team histories, refreshments, mascots, and much more!

Josh Pahigian swore off baseball for the first time at age twelve when the ball went through Buckner's legs. He rejoined Red Sox Nation the following March when the Red Sox won their first spring-training game. Currently, he covers collegiate and high school sports for the Portland Press Herald in Portland, Maine, where he lives with his wife.

- The Ultimate Baseball Road Trip has been a successful book for the Lyons Press
- The only book of its kind
- 2005 set a record with 41.3 million fans in Minor League attendance
- Includes terrific tips and information for fans' favorite minor league parks

“Timothy Gay has accomplished something special with this book . . .”

David Maraniss
author of Clemente: The Passion and Grace of Baseball's Last Hero

“Tristram ‘Spoke’ Speaker sits, statistically, alongside baseball’s greatest sluggers and fielders, but his story and name have been largely forgotten. . . . Gay has insured the righting of history with this biography.”

Publishers Weekly

“Tris Speaker was the prototype for Willie Mays . . . Timothy Gay has crafted an enjoyable and important book about one of the most dominant yet underrated players in baseball history.”

Richard A. Johnson, coauthor of Red Sox Century and The Dodgers: 120 Years of Dodger Baseball

“Gay has filled a serious gap in baseball history, and his effort compares favorably with Charles Alexander’s acclaimed biographies of John McGraw and Ty Cobb.”

TRIS SPEAKER

The Rough-and-Tumble Life of a Baseball Legend

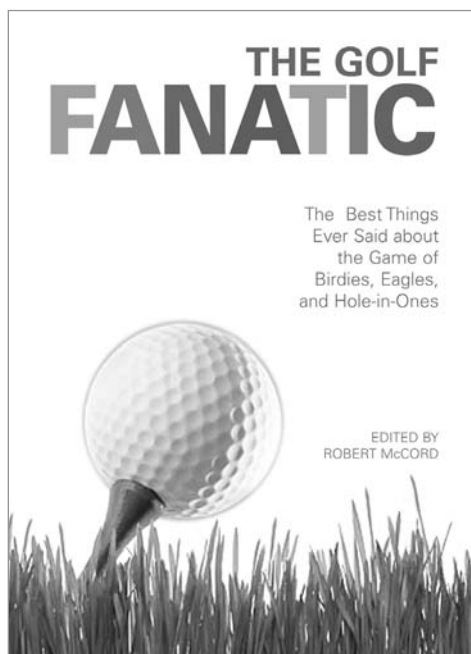

TIMOTHY M. GAY

Hall of Famer Tris Speaker compiled a career batting average of .345—career—5th all-time best—and tallied more doubles than anyone in history. Regarded by his peers as the greatest center-fielder of all time, Speaker’s range was so great that his outfield area was known as the place “where triples went to die.” He still holds the all-time records for assists, double plays, and unassisted double plays by an outfielder. Simply stated, Tris Speaker is the long-overdue biography of one of the best players of all time.

Timothy M. Gay is a writer based in northern Virginia. His essays and articles on the Civil War, politics, baseball, college basketball, and golf have appeared in USA Today, The Washington Post, and other publications.

MICKEY MANTLE'S

Behind the Scenes in America's Most Famous Sports Bar
WILLIAM LIEDERMAN

Following in the tradition of such famed New York City hot spots as Toots Shor's and Elaine's, Mickey Mantle's Restaurant has stood as both a restaurant and a blue-plate gathering place for athletes and celebrities since opening in 1988. Author William Liederman, who founded the restaurant with the official endorsement of Mantle himself, knew he was on to something big. What he didn't know was the number of funny, poignant, and often outrageous tales that would play themselves out under his watch. No other book will give readers an inside view into one of the most storied sports bars in history.

William Liederman was the founder of Mickey Mantle's Restaurant, which has played host to scores of radio and television broadcasts, as well as book parties, press events, and charity auctions. He lives in New York City.

- Ball Four meets Kitchen Confidential
- Mantle is one of the most famous sports personalities of all time
- Includes the humorous comings and goings of such famous athletes as Muhammad Ali, O. J. Simpson, Reggie Jackson, Joe Pepitone, and Wilt Chamberlain, as well as encounters with Donald Trump and Marla Maples—not to mention the police, health inspectors, and the Mafia

1001 STUPID SPORTS QUOTES

Jaw-Dropping, Stupefying, and Amazing Expressions from the World's Best Athletes
EDITED BY RANDY HOWE

What is it about athletes and their amazing ability to twist and torture the English language? Here is an eminently readable, laugh-out-loud, always entertaining, can't-put-it-down collection of 1,001 of the most stupefyingly dumb quotes from the world's best athletes. While they might be at the top of the athletic world, their profound inability to communicate clearly and articulately puts them on the bench.

Randy Howe, athlete and teacher, is author of the four-book Weekend Warrior series, with titles on golf, football, softball, and basketball, published by the Lyons Press. He lives in Connecticut with his wife and two children.

- Highly readable and laugh-out-loud funny quotes from the world's best athletes

One Athlete's Journey to the Underbelly of Pro Football
TED A. KLUCK

Former college football player Ted Kluck had a dream: to return to the playing field and stir the dying embers of his athletic prowess. He decided to try to sign on with a professional team—in his case, the Battle Creek Crunch of the Great Lakes Indoor Football League, known as the Tigers. Here's how he describes the results of his first practice: "Post-practice, my body is a bas-relief road map of pain. I am purple from shoulder to elbow and my arms sport an interesting array of little polka-dot welts (from the mesh practice jersey) and Field Turf abrasions. There is a nice, purplish bruise around the outer portion of my right eye and if my wife harbored any excitement about sleeping with a professional athlete, then it is for naught. My plan is to not be touched by anyone for any reason, for several days. Sexy."

Part Paper Lion and part Bull Durham, this book tells the story of the dreamers and the world-class athletes with promise who never quite made the next step.

Ted A. Kluck's work has appeared in ESPN The Magazine, Sports Spectrum magazine, Cyberboxingzone.com, and several small literary journals. A bimonthly column for Sports Spectrum magazine entitled "Pro and Con" won the Evangelical Press Association award for best standing column. He lives in East Lansing, Michigan.

- Follows in the deep footsteps of George Plimpton
- Author writes a regular column for ESPN.com
- A sometimes hilarious and sometimes touching account of the dreamers and the world-class athletes with promise who never quite made the next step

FOOTBALL FEUDS

The Greatest College Football Rivalries
KEN RAPPOPORT AND BARRY WILNER

College football has some of the most rabid fans and lunatic emotions in sports. Football Feuds uses, along with fans' passion, a gauge devised by longtime sportswriters Ken Rappoport and Barry Wilner: the "hate rate." How bitter is the rivalry? Take for example Texas–Texas A&M, or Michigan–Ohio State. Which conflict is more heated? The intensity generated by rivalries remains at the highest level possible in longtime feuds between Army and Navy, California and Stanford, Florida State and Miami—and many, many more. This is a must-read for the millions of die-hard college football fans who flock to stadiums across the country every fall.

Ken Rappoport has worked as an Associated Press writer for thirty years, covering every major professional and college sport. He lives in Old Bridge, New Jersey.

Barry Wilner has been a sportswriter for the Associated Press for twenty years. He has covered everything from the Super Bowl to the Olympics. He lives in Garnerville, New York.

- An insider's guide to the passion and bitterness that sparks some of college football's biggest games
- A colorful retelling of the great college football rivalries—and the greatest games ever played
- Between them, authors have more than fifty years of sportswriting experience for the Associated Press
- College football attracts tens of millions of fans each season

WOLF EMPIRE

An Intimate Portrait of a Species

SCOTT IAN BARRY

From award-winning photographer Scott Ian Barry comes Wolf Empire—the most comprehensive and stunning visual record of wolves ever published in black-and-white photography. In image after breathtaking image of fur and teeth, texture and shape, light and shadow, Barry creates a highly intimate look at a world seldom seen by the human eye.

Each extraordinary photograph is accompanied by an anecdote in which Barry relates the circumstances that led to the taking of the photo, or some unique personal observation about wolf behavior gathered from his more than thirty years of experience as a wildlife photographer. His reverence for these magnificent animals comes through in frame after frame of wolves in varying degrees of harmony and aggression, excitement and tranquility, cooperation and solitude. By inviting readers into this elusive universe, Barry encourages human beings to think of themselves as part of a living planet, one that is better shared with wolves than without them.

Scott Ian Barry's photographs have been published by various publications and organizations, including the New York Times, the Smithsonian Institution, and the Sierra Club. He lives in Woodstock, New York.

- Photographs are stunning and Ansel Adams-like in quality
- Barry has thirty years' experience observing wolf behavior in the wild
- A wide array of the wolf experience is portrayed and explained in an accessible and engaging way
- Includes 100 blw photographs

THE YEAR OF THE GOAT

40,000 Miles and the Quest for the Perfect Cheese

MARGARET HATHAWAY AND KARL SCHATZ

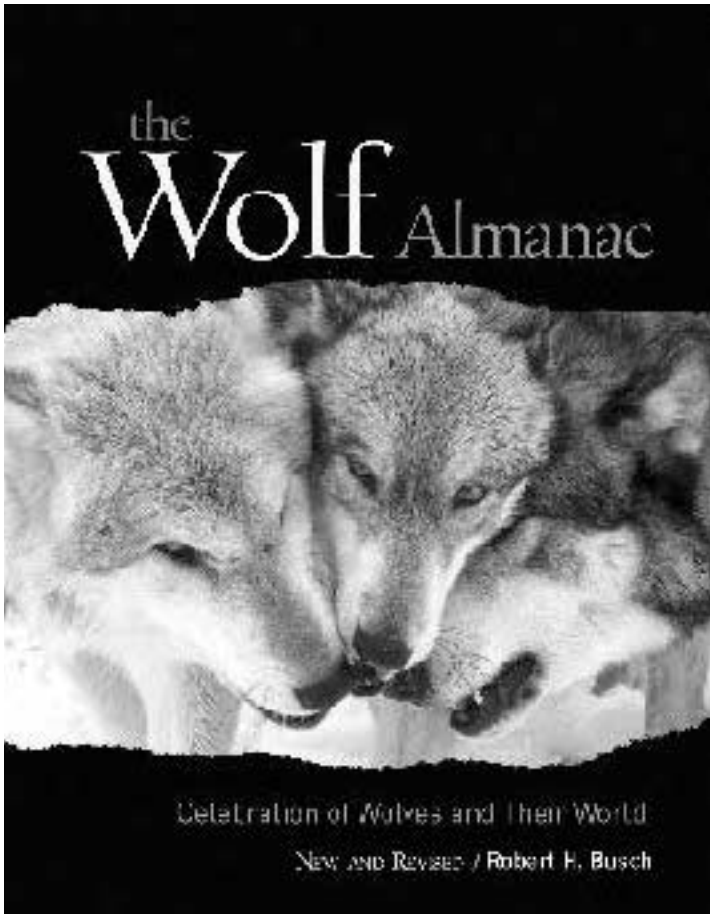

Many people dream of leaving the workaday world for a life of simplicity and freedom, and Margaret Hathaway and her then-boyfriend Karl did just that. In Year of the Goat, the reader can jump in the “goat mobile” with them as they ditch their big-city lifestyle to trek across forty-three states in search of greener pastures and the perfect goat cheese. Along the way, the reader is introduced to a vivid cast of characters—including farmers, breeders, cheese makers, and world-class chefs—and learns everything there is to know about goats and getting back to the land. But readers beware: when it comes to goat cheese, it can be love at first bite.

Margaret Hathaway is a freelance writer and aspiring farmer. A former manager of the Magnolia Bakery in New York City, she is a founding member of the Portland Slow Food Convivium, as well as an active volunteer with the Maine Organic Farmers and Gardeners Association. She lives in Maine with her husband Karl, her daughter Charlotte, their dog Godfrey, and an ever-growing group of animals.

Karl Schatz is the former online photo editor for TIME magazine. He is currently the operations manager for Aurora Photos.

- Authors are media-savvy, with connections to Slow Foods, Murray’s Cheese Shop, Fairfield Farm Kitchens, Magnolia Bakery, and TIME magazine
- Goat cheese has developed a cult following among “foodies”

THE WOLF ALMANAC, NEW AND REVISED

ROBERT H. BUSCH

The Wolf Almanac, New and Revised has become an acknowledged reference work on the evolution and history of wolves: their biology and physiology, behavior and sociology, and their influence in ancient culture and mythology. This newly revised edition includes the most recent information on the wolves of Yellowstone, as well as fully updated information on the status of wolves throughout the world.

Robert H. Busch is the author of eight books on natural history, including The Wolf Almanac, a best-selling selection of the Natural Science Book Club, and The Cougar Almanac. His writing has appeared in Nature Canada, Wildlife Conservation, Discovery, Country Journal, Grolier 1998 Anthology of Best Science Writing, and many others. He lives in British Columbia.

- A new format and full-color design with completely updated text
- Most authoritative, comprehensive wolf book when first published, and none other has since come to take its place
- Full-color photographs throughout

Nymphs Volume I } the mayflies
The Major Species

Ernest G. Schwiebert

NYPHS VOLUME I: THE MAYFLIES

The Major Species

ERNEST G. SCHWIEBERT

For the fly fisher seeking to catch more and bigger trout, fishing nymphs—patterns that mimic the larval stage of mayflies—can be a surefire approach. Nymphs Volume I: The Mayflies, the first volume in a totally revised edition of the 1973 original, is the singular authority on identifying the myriad species of mayfly larvae and tying imitations that will attract trout all across the country.

Author Ernest G. Schwiebert spent the last fifty years of his life traveling, fishing, and gathering information on scores of mayfly species essential to anglers. The 1973 edition of Nymphs set forth his initial findings. Now in this wholly revised and expanded form, Schwiebert's last work offers the reader exacting details of every major mayfly species for the sake of identification, along with recipes for dozens of fly patterns to imitate them.

This new edition also includes numerous stories and anecdotes from Schwiebert's travels, some never set down in writing before, that further add to the understanding of how to choose, cast, and fish nymphs—and of life.

Ernest G. Schwiebert (1931–2005) became one of the masters of fly fishing and fly-fishing entomology in the late twentieth century. A widely published magazine writer and author, he produced works of literature that changed the way people fished, including Matching the Hatch (1955), Nymphs (1973), and Trout (1978).

- Long-awaited masterwork from a legendary fly fisher
- A major revision of the original 1973 breakthrough book
- New and digitally remastered color art by the author

NYPHS VOLUME II: CADDISFLIES, STONEFLIES, AND OTHER IMPORTANT SPECIES

Including the Lesser Mayflies

ERNEST G. SCHWIEBERT

After the major mayfly species, detailed in Nymphs Volume I: The Mayflies, the fly fisher must know the caddisfly, stonefly, lesser mayfly, and midge populations just as well to catch trout that are keyed in on such insects. Nymphs Volume II: Caddisflies, Stoneflies, and Other Important Species gives the reader all the essential information about identifying individual species of these insects throughout their North American range, wherever trout eat them, and then delves into detailed instructions for scores of artificial patterns to imitate them.

And just as in Nymphs Volume I: The Mayflies, this book includes numerous stories and anecdotes from Schwiebert's travels that illuminate the selection and use of nymph patterns, and recount great days spent on the water as interpreted through one of the great minds of modern fly fishing.

Ernest G. Schwiebert (1931–2005) became one of the masters of fly fishing and fly-fishing entomology in the late twentieth century. FISHING VIRGINIA

An Angler's Guide to More than 100 Fishing Spots

MARTIN FREED AND RUTA VASKYS

The fishing in Virginia is as diverse as the terrain. From 600-pound tuna in its offshore waters and delicious flounder in the Chesapeake to oversized bucketmouths in the piedmont lakes and 8-inch brook trout in the bubbling mountain streams—what more can a dedicated angler ask for? Based on a lifetime of fishing, Martin Freed describes 100 top sites and what anglers can expect from Virginia's waters.

Martin Freed and Ruta Vaskys, freelance writers and photographers, are well known in the region and highly respected in the fields of angling and Virginia wildlife. Their credits include Fish, Fur, and Game; The Mid-Atlantic Fisherman; The Chesapeake Angler; and the Eastern Shore News. Both are avid anglers and members of the Outdoor Writers Association of America.

AMBUSHING TROPHY WHITETAILS

Tactical Systems for Big-Buck Success

JOHN TROUT JR.

Ambushing Trophy Whitetails is the new playbook for the deer hunter who's up to the challenge of hunting big bucks, with bow and with gun. Veteran hunting writer John Trout Jr. calls upon his years of taking numerous super bucks to show the reader how to create multiple "ambush" sites through careful profiling of individual animals. Trout combines compelling stories of successful hunts with methodology to give the reader a new systematic approach to whitetail hunting.

John Trout Jr. began hunting with both rifle and bow in the 1960s, and has since taken twelve whitetail bucks that would "make book." His feature writing has appeared in magazines such as Field & Stream and Outdoor Life, and he has written eight books on big-game hunting. He lives in Fairfield, Illinois.

- Expert tactical approaches from a "name" hunter
- Exciting tales of big-buck successes provide real-world lessons
- Complete coverage of the deer season, from scouting to late rut
- Methods for dealing with complicated big-buck behavior
- Appeals most to hunters in the major big-buck country of the Midwest, but big bucks can be found anywhere that whitetails thrive, from Pennsylvania to Montana
- Includes 8-page color insert and blw photographs throughout

THE ULTIMATE OUTDOORSMAN'S WORKSHOP HANDBOOK

A Fully Illustrated Guide on How to Organize, Maintain, and Store All Your Outdoor Gear

MONTE BURCH

All outdoorsmen have tons of gear. Organizing it is essential, and often a major chore. But in this handbook, veteran outdoor writer Monte Burch shows you how to maintain, store, and even build your most expensive and crucial outdoor equipment. Through fully illustrated, step-by-step instructions, readers will learn how to create and modify workspaces and storage for:

gunsmithing—rifle and bow maintenance—knife making—lure making—rod building—boating—camping—butchering

Monte Burch has been writing about the outdoors for four decades, and is the author of thousands of magazine articles and more than fifty books, including the Lyons Press titles Field Dressing and Butchering Upland Birds, Waterfowl, and Wild Turkeys; Field Dressing and Butchering Deer; and The Field & Stream ATV Handbook. He lives in Humansville, Missouri.

- Follows in the footsteps of Monte Burch's classic 1977 Outdoorsman's Workshop book
- Offers everything a true outdoorsman needs to know
- Required skill level is basic to moderate
- Perfect gift for anyone who loves the outdoors
- Full color throughout

TRUE HORSEMANSHIP THROUGH FEEL

Second Edition

BILL DORRANCE

LESLIE DESMOND

"Bill and Leslie have written a new masterpiece! This is the best horse book of our era and we have been waiting for it! The book they should name 'The Horse Whisperer'!" —Alexandra, editor of The Horse Whisperer

TRUE HORSEMANSHIP THROUGH FEEL, 2ND

BILL DORRANCE AND LESLIE DESMOND

Expert horseman Bill Dorrance chose the name True Horsemanship Through Feel because “feel” is the language of horses. Learning that language can expand any horseman’s knowledge and abilities—whether he or she is learning to ride, train, or compete. In a writing style that is generously detailed and packed with meaning, Dorrance directs the reader’s attention to the many subtle things about how horses and humans act and interact. In these pages, he urges us to reach toward a deeper level of insight into horses and their riders as he shares a wealth of helpful information. With hundreds of illustrations, True Horsemanship Through Feel takes the reader step by step through the basic challenges that have characterized horse-human relations for centuries. Drawing on his years of experience, Bill Dorrance has crafted a book that imparts knowledge previously available only by word of mouth.

Bill Dorrance (1906–1996) was a legendary livestock rancher and horseman.

Leslie Desmond is an international horsemanship coach. She lives in Germany.

- The first edition was a hugely successful book and established the Lyons Press as a leader in natural horsemanship book publishing
- Written in the actual words and voice of a renowned master horseman
- Natural horsemanship is the fastest-growing trend in the horse world, as evidenced by the fantastic sales of The Revolution in Horsemanship, Pat Parelli’s Natural HorseManShip, and Buck Brannaman’s books
- Includes hundreds of b/w photographs of Bill and Leslie and their horses in action

THE LYONS PRESS HORSEMAN'S DICTIONARY

Full Explanations of More than 1,000 Terms and Phrases
Used by Horsemen Past and Present

STEVEN D. PRICE AND JESSIE SHIERS

The Lyons Press Horseman's Dictionary is a one-stop comprehensive reference book that defines and illustrates more than 1,000 words and phrases encountered throughout the horse world, including recent additions such as PMU foal, rollkur, and hooking on. This book not only defines and explains the essential terms, but it also offers valuable tips on their correct usage. For example, in the wide and perplexing range of bits, The Lyons Press Horseman's Dictionary tells how each bit works on the horse and the conditions under which it is appropriately used.

Among other subjects are familiar and exotic equine breeds, competitive disciplines and activities, tack and apparel, anatomy and health, and training techniques and equipment. All aspects of English and Western riding and driving are covered in easy-to-understand language.

Here is an important resource both for novices who want an explanation of unfamiliar terms and for experienced horsemen who are exploring new areas of equestrian sport.

Steven D. Price, a consulting editor of the Lyons Press, is the author of more than thirty books. He lives in New York City.

Jessie Shiers is the author of 101 Horsekeeping Tips and 101 Hunter/Jumper Tips, and the editor of Incredible Horse Tales. She lives in Maine.

- A user-friendly dictionary/reference format
- Includes important everyday terms as well as esoterica

THE LEGENDARY APPALOOSA

CHERYL DUDLEY

With its distinctive spotted rump "blanket" patch, the Appaloosa is among the most recognizable of horses. This celebration of the breed includes chapters on its history, close bond with humans, and uses in ranching and such competitive events as horse shows, rodeos, and endurance races. Photographs from the best photographers of Appaloosas enhance this definitive and evocative look at a distinctly American horse.

Cheryl Dudley is a staff writer on The Appaloosa Journal, the magazine of the Appaloosa Horse Club, the breed's registry and governing body. She lives in Moscow, Idaho.

- The Appaloosa Horse Club has a membership of more than 20,000, and many more people own Appaloosas; people are passionate about the breed

THE BOOK OF DRAFT HORSES

The Gentle Giants that Built the World
DONNA CAMPBELL SMITH

Before trucks and tractors, draft horses performed the heavy work of pulling wagons, plowing fields, and hauling logs. But the internal combustion engine did not entirely replace these animals; they are still used in many parts of the country for agricultural and other jobs. The Book of Draft Horses is a celebration of these “gentle giants,” as well as a practical handbook on breeding, care, training, competition, and working horses.

Donna Campbell Smith is a freelance writer with a degree in equine technology. She writes for USA Equestrian, The Chronicle of the Horse, and other equestrian magazines. She lives in Wake Forest, North Carolina.

- Draft horses combine the general allure of horses with a sense of history
- The estimated 60,000 owners of draft horses in this country indicate a viable market for this book
- The breeding, raising, training, and use of these horses for driving and pulling/hauling are a fascinating aspect of horsemanship
- Includes 60 b/w photographs that complement the text by showing the various breeds at work and at play

YOUR ADOPTED DOG

Everything You Need to Know about Rescuing and Caring for a Best Friend in Need
SHELLEY FROST AND KATERINA LORENZATOS MAKRIS

Just as first-time parents need instruction manuals, families adopting dogs also need the canine equivalent to What to Expect When You're Expecting. Your Adopted Dog is the essential guide to making life easier for those navigating the unique challenges and joys of bringing home a rescued dog.

It covers:

- How to help all dogs right now with a few basic steps
- What to do if you find a dog in need
- Your adopted dog comes home—the critical first 48 hours
- Common health and behavioral problems of rescue dogs—how to prevent and deal with them
- Integrating a rescue into the family
- Finding the right home for a dog you can't keep

Shelley Frost, a screenwriter, producer, and animal advocate, has written widely on animal-related issues. She lives in Belmont, California.

Katerina Lorenzatos Makris, a journalist and author of seventeen books, has rescued, fostered, and rehomed dozens of animals. She lives in Encinitas, California, and has seven ex-street dogs of her own.

Inspirational Stories of Dogs with Disabilities
JOYCE DARRELL; FOREWORD BY WARREN ECKSTEIN

Auggie appeared to be a klutzy puppy, always bumping into walls. Really, he was born blind and could only see shadows. Emmy Lou, a kind-spirited hunting dog, was shot in an accident and could never use her hind legs again. Jinx, a rambunctious three-legged terrier mix, was abandoned and dumped on the side of the road. Despite the difficult hardships these animals faced, they found families who accepted and loved them unconditionally. Extraordinary Dogs is a compilation of dozens of heartwarming, against-all-odds profiles of dogs with disabilities with an unwavering zest for life. Each dog's one-of-a-kind story will no doubt win you over, paws down.

Joyce Darrell founded the Pets with Disabilities organization with her husband, Michael. It has been featured on NBC's Today show, as well as in Prevention and Dog Fancy magazines. The couple lives in Prince Frederick, Maryland.

- The Pets with Disabilities website, www.petswithdisabilities.org, receives over 20,000 hits per month
- Dozens of beautifully written stories about dogs with special needs and their loving owners
- Useful information includes where to buy pet-friendly life-made-easier items (like doggie wheelchairs) and disabled pet adoption agency listings
- Foreword by Warren Eckstein, aka "The Dr. Phil of Pets," the pet and animal editor for NBC's Today show and host of the nationally syndicated radio show, The Pet Show with Warren Eckstein

DOGS OF DREAMTIME

A Story About Second Chances and the Power of Love

KAREN SHANLEY

When does a dog's behavior become too dangerous for even the most loving person to accept? Karen Shanley tackles this question in lyrical prose and brings to life her relationships with three very different dogs: Kiera, Molly, and Magic, who all manage to capture Shanley's heart. Dogs of Dreamtime makes readers take a long, hard look at what matters most in life—and what does not—as well as what can and cannot be controlled. This is a touching story that will stay with readers forever.

Karen Shanley lives with her husband, daughter, and two dogs in Ballston, New York.

- An emotional journey: readers will laugh, cry, and nod with understanding
- Shows the significant role animals play in defining who we are
- Explores the healing power pets have in our lives

EMINENT DOGS, DANGEROUS MEN

Searching through Scotland for a Border Collie

DONALD McCAIG

Eminent Dogs, Dangerous Men is the story of McCaig's search through rural Scotland for just the right sheepdog to bring home. Traveling the countryside to competitions and farms, meeting shepherds and trainers, McCaig introduces us to unforgettable animal and human characters. He delves into the mysterious pact between dog and man, which involves trust and deep communication.

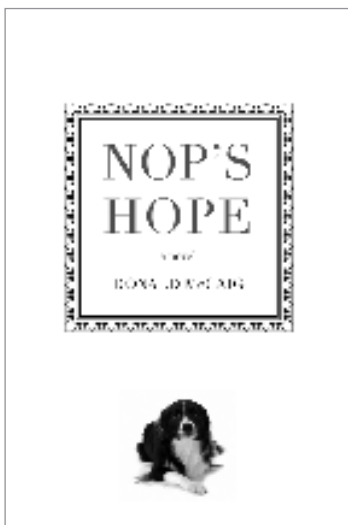

Donald McCaig, a novelist, is the renowned author of Nop's Trials. He and his wife run a sheep farm in the mountains of western Virginia.

- Donald McCaig is a critically acclaimed writer
- Wonderful story of the animal-human bond
- Working dogs are of great interest to all dog lovers

DOG BODY, DOG MIND

A Guide to Total Canine Well-Being

DR. MICHAEL W. FOX

With extraordinary insight and vision, veterinarian and animal behaviorist Dr. Fox explores the minds and hearts of dogs. Dogs, and all animals, have much to teach their human companions, if only humans knew how to listen. In Dog Body, Dog Mind Fox seeks to enhance readers' understanding and communication with their canine companions. He helps readers become more fluent in "dog speak," and to understand what dogs feel, think, and want, strengthening the dog-human bond. Better communication leads to happier dogs and people. Fox also offers a holistic approach to companion animal care and preventive medicine, as well as behavioral advice and training tips that will help guarantee a healthy and happy animal.

Dr. Michael W. Fox has been called "America's best known veterinarian." Author of more than a dozen books on animals and holistic subjects, Dr. Fox also provides advice in his Q&A column, "Animal Doctor" (nationally syndicated by United Media), which appears twice a week. He lives in Minneapolis, Minnesota.

- More than 64 million American households own one or more pets
- More pets (377.8 million) than people (290 million) in the country
- Ownership jumped from 56 percent of U.S. households in 1988 to 62 percent today
- Pet-related spending in 2004 topped $34.3 billion
- Includes blw photographs

CAT BODY, CAT MIND

A Guide to Total Feline Well-Being
DR. MICHAEL W. FOX

Animal behaviorist and veterinarian Michael W. Fox teaches readers how to better understand their cats; what they’re thinking and feeling; and how to communicate with our feline friends. A stronger cat-human bond means a happier cat, and a happier cat owner. Fox helps strengthen these special bonds. In Cat Body, Cat Mind he ushers readers into the whole new world that opens up when humans truly come to know and understand their cats. Fox also offers a holistic approach to companion animal care and natural cat care to keep their bodies as happy as their minds.

Dr. Michael W. Fox travels the world as a veterinarian, animal behaviorist, and animal welfare activist. Author of more than a dozen books on animals and holistic subjects, Dr. Fox also provides advice in his Q&A column, “Animal Doctor” (nationally syndicated by United Media), which appears twice a week. He lives in Minneapolis, Minnesota.

- Author’s column is a great platform
- Fox teaches cat owners to become cat whisperers
- Fox will be a big promoter of his books through lectures and columns
- Includes blw photographs
