Get new inner fenders!

With all the abuse that Inner Front Fenders have to take, it should be no surprise that they look so bad when you remove them from your car. The top areas usually look okay, up near the seam between the hood line and the outer fender. But it can be a real shocker when you disassemble the front sheet metal, and survey the rust and damage. Batteries leak acid on the Inner Front Fenders, while tires throw up rocks, water, snow, ice, salt, sand, and gravel at tremendous velocities. People often drill extra holes to mount accessories, and even Father Time seems to take a toll on those poor Inner Front Fenders. At Goodmark Industries we have learned to respect inner fenders, as we know how important they are to having proper fitting front sheet metal. And, they show up prominently every time you open your Chevelle's hood. Go ahead, order two new Front Inner Fenders with your new outer front fenders. You'll love the way they look!

Front Fenders

You're going to love the way these beautiful brand new steel fenders will fit and look on your Chevelle. Just like original factory fenders with all braces, holes, and threads in place, these fenders are a much better choice than trying to deal with old fender rust, dents, paint, and body filler. These are the best quality on the market, and all fenders are shipped via Truck Freight.

What's that black coating?

It's called EDP, which stands for Electro Deposit Primer, and it makes an excellent primer under your paint job.

As you probably know, factory paint back in the '60's and '70's was usually just sprayed onto the surfaces that could be reached by a spray gun. But this left many blind areas behind braces, etc, completely bare of any paint protection. Hence, many cars rusted within a few years. But EDP coating is applied electrically, almost like a plating process. The excellent rust-resistant coating reaches every nook and cranny, for unparalleled corrosion resistance.

The only surface preparation required is a light scuffing of the surface for better paint adhesion. No stripping is necessary. The panel is protected from rust as long as the EDP coating remains under your paint.

This is one more way that Goodmark® goes the extra mile for our customers!

ENGINE COMPARTMENT DETAIL

Get the details right, and your engine compartment will be a rare treat for everyone to see at the next car show or cruise-in you attend. Enhance the appearance of the engine and the whole engine bay with correct clips, bolts, screws, straps, brackets, grommets, etc. And what is right at top-dead-center for everyone to see? The air cleaner, of course. Nothing looks better than the original style unit. Today, even many owners of street machines are modifying our stock air cleaners to fit their aftermarket carburetors and fuel injection, for that "period correct" look.

We bet you thought Goodmark just made body panels; in actuality, Goodmark offers many of these and other parts for many different makes and models."

Which type of "Quarter Panel" do you need?

A "Full Quarter Panel" is made just like the panels which were welded onto your car when it was new. Indeed, for this reason some people call them "Factory-Style" or "OEM-Style" Quarter Panels. These panels reach all the way to each edge of the rear quarter panel area, including the trunk and door edges, and reach to the roof line, just like the factory-original panels did for your particular model. For GM cars, this will include the door jamb area.

"Quarter Skins" are nearly as large as "Full Quarter Panels", but do not include any trunk lips, door jambs, etc. They reach out to each edge of the quarter panel area, but you must leave the edge of original quarter panels to weld to. "Quarter Skins" reach upward to approximately the location where the bottom of original vinyl roofs would normally be. Keep in mind that, while "Quarter Skins" initially cost less than "Full Quarter Panels", it often takes more labor to install them. So, if keeping your costs down is the only reason that you might select "Quarter Skins" over "Full Quarter Panels", you should be aware that the final net cost might not represent much of a savings. Also, "Quarter Skins" do require a lip to weld to, all the way around the edge. This makes them a poor choice for badly rusted-out cars...since there is often no bottom edge remaining to weld to. In this case, you are better off choosing "Full Quarter Panels", and adding Outer Wheel Houses to completely replace the rust.

"Quarter Patches" are just what they sound like...small pieces of quarter panels, for repairing small holes in isolated areas. These are good choices for nearly perfect cars with tiny holes in specific spots, or for low-budget "driver" cars. But it can be very difficult to hide the seam areas where the patches are welded to the original panels.

Rear Wheelhouses

EDP coated steel panels used to form the wheelhouse over the rear wheel. The inner wheelhouse is the one you see inside the trunk. The outer wheelhouse mates up to the quarter panel in the wheel lip. If your quarters are rusty in the wheel opening, you need to replace these, too. These can be modified for convertible models by crushing down the top section to clear the top frame.

Don't even THINK...

...of replacing quarter panels while leaving old rusted outer wheelhouses in place. Many people have made this mistake over the years, and end up having to do their car over again. The original Outer Wheelhouse is welded onto the quarter panel at the factory, and the seam forms a natural place to trap moisture and debris. Whenever you see a car with rust around the wheel well opening, you know that BOTH the quarter panel and the Outer Wheelhouse are badly rusted. While the wheelhouse is indeed hidden behind the quarter panel, it is the foundation that your new quarter panel must be welded to. So, rusted and weakened steel may not hold your quarter panel properly. Moreover, you may soon have to resort to repairing rust holes again...this time in the wheelhouse. And where is the first place prospective buyers will probe their fingers into while searching for evidence of rust repair? Under the wheel well opening, of course!

Full factory-style EDP coated panels repair rusted trunk floors. Each trunk floor assembly includes gas tank braces and body mount braces welded in place, as well as the over axle brace and rear cross rail welded in place, ready for installation. Partial panels are designed to be able to fit in the trunk opening (so you can replace without removing the body off the frame to install). 7-piece kits include 3 floor sections, 2 floor braces, and 2 body mount braces.

Editors love

Goodmark!

"With the amount of rust present in the trunk floor, it's much easier to replace it than rework it and hope the rust doesn't reappear. Like all the other sheetmetal panels, it comes right from Goodmark's massive inventory."

GAS TANKS

Replace rust and muck-filled old gas tanks in your muscle car, with brand new high quality steel Gas Tanks from Goodmark®. There is no cost-efficient way to restore the outside appearance of a gas tank, and the rust particles, sludge, and stale gas residue inside are just carburetor problems waiting to happen. While you're at it, be sure to replace rusted or weakened old straps, brackets, bolts, and gas caps. All Gas Tanks include filler neck unless noted. Some tanks are available set up for EFI with fuel pump and sending unit included.

BODY HARDWARE

The lowly brackets, bolts, clips, springs, retainers, levers, and other hardware items are often overlooked—until you're trying hard to reassemble your finished Chevelle and get it ready to drive out of the garage. But you'll hate to put rusty or mismatched hardware on that beautiful newly painted car. And those "shade-tree" fixes like baling wire and universal hardware can look kind of tacky. And then, where can you find the authentic hardware at the last minute? Get a head start on the completion of a highly detailed project, by ordering the correct hardware for your vehicle today. Give Goodmark® a call today!

Body Hardware Kits

Excellent kits feature correct fasteners for specific models, not generic hardware. Each group of parts is individually bagged and labeled so that you know just where they go, and even the assembly manual page number is assigned to each bag. Typical kit includes fasteners to attach: back-up lamps, battery tray, bumpers & brackets & guards, bumper filler panel, cowl panel, door latches, fenders & braces & extensions & splash shields, grille & brackets & mouldings, headlamp bezels, housings & adjusters, header panel, hood & hinges, hood levelers, hood catch & lock plate, hood catch support, hood mouldings, license plate brackets, marker lamps, nameplates, parking lamps, tailamps, trunk latch & striker, trunk lid, valance, wheelhouses & brackets.
